

New Paths.

Education in a digital world.

The Foundation. Facts and figures.

Founded

December 2003

Objective

Make Germany stronger in education, research and technology

Endowment capital

€ 150 million

Annual budget

approx. € 10 million

Team

Staff of 25

Organisation

Legally self-standing entity

Activities

Entirely non-profit

Work method

Operating, not financing

How we work.

Investing in minds.

- We are focussing our efforts on the STEM subjects: science, technology, engineering and mathematics. A solid grounding in these subjects is an important precondition for participation in a digital society.
- We are striving to build a positive public attitude towards these subjects.
- We are trying to extend our STEM activities to other European countries:
 - Volunteer readers (corporate volunteering) => Austria, Romania, Spain etc.
 - Junior Engineer Academy (school partnerships) => Bosnia, Croatia, Czech Republic, Greece, Hungary, Moldavia, Poland, Romania
 - Klaus Kinkel Scholarships (student teachers in the STEM field) => Hungary, Poland, Romania

Volunteer readers.

Making STEM a listening adventure.

- Objective: Awaken childrens' interest in STEM phenomena and improve their language and reading skills by reading aloud to them
- Target group: Children in day care centers and elementary schools (Age 3 to 10)
- Project Partner: German Reading Foundation (Stiftung Lesen)
- Volunteer readers: recruited all over Germany and in other countries (up to now: 1,400)
- Means: books, eBooks, apps, trainings with physical presence, webinars, videos
- Children: 2016 about 8,600 children took part in reading aloud sessions

Volunteer readers. Going abroad.

- Nearly 100 reading and media tips in 9 different languages (books, eBooks, Apps)
- Reading aloud sessions in Austria, Romania, Spain, USA
- Free online and classroom trainings in Austria, Spain
- In talks with Greece and Hungary
- Cooperation with local partners (e. g. schools, libraries, volunteer networks, NGOs)

Volunteer readers. In action.

Andrea Servaty
Head of Communications
Deutsche Telekom Stiftung

Phone: +49 228 181-92205
Mail: andrea.servaty@telekom-stiftung.de

Website: www.telekom-stiftung.de

Volunteer Readers: www.telekom-stiftung.de/volunteer-readers

Thanks for your interest and attention.

